MEMORANDUM FOR Army Contracting Agency Southern Region (ACASR)
Installations

SUBJECT: Southern Region Implementation Memorandum (SRIM) 03-16: Operations
Support Command (OSC) Excess and Non-Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC)
Excess Installations

1. Reference memorandum, SFCA-ZA, 24 January 2003, SAB.
2. Subject memorandum states that the ACA does not have the mission to support OSC Excess and Non-BRAC Excess Installations. Be aware that you may be asked for support through your garrisons. If you receive a request for contract support, please advise. For additional information, please contact Ms. Carol Lowman at DSN 367-0467 or email lowmancarol@forscom.army.mil.

MEMORANDUM FOR COMMANDER, U.S. ARMY MATERIEL COMMAND.
ATTN: AMCRDA-A, 5001 EISENHOWER AVENUE,
ALEXANDRIA, VA 22333-0001

SUBJECT: Operations Support Command (OSC) Excess and Non-Base
Realignment and Closure (BRAC) Excess Installations

I appreciated your December 2002, visit to my office to brief me on the Operations Support Command (OSC) Excess and Non-BRAC Excess Installations. During this meeting, the OSC Principal Assistant Responsible for Contracting and his staff provided me with an overview of HQ OSC installations from a contracting perspective and, specifically, those that are transferring to the Assistant Chief of Staff for Installation Management's (ACSIM) Installation Support Management Activity.

Although the U.S. Army Contracting Agency (ACA) routinely supports ACSIM's procurement requirements, as I indicated in this meeting, the ACA does not have the mission to assume contracting support for excess or BRAC installations that currently receive support from a non-ACA office.

Additionally, the support to these excess facilities is no different from the support provided to active installations and as such is a core function which OSC can more efficiently continue to perform than transition to an organization with no prior experience or expertise in this area.

Therefore, I am not willing to concur with a mission transfer.
